The sale of the Neuman stock will be inaugurated Friday morning of this week, details of the sale appearing in The Washington Herald of Friday and Saturday.

NO PLACE LIKE HOME. NO HOMES LIKE OURS.

The New Model
MIDDAUGH & SHANNON, Inc.,
Homes of a Hundred Ideas
In Woodley Park,
$7,350.

Better utilization of space is but one of the many pleasing results obtained from incorporating in these homes the combined ideas of the men and women of our city. One purchaser remarked during the inspection of this home, "This is the most businesslike kitchen I have ever seen in a Washington home."

We admit that it is different. We have installed a handsome ice chest, a broom closet, a pantry with removable shelving, a large hooded range, a folding table, and a tiled sink.

Some say that people do not appreciate such things; however, the rapid way in which these homes have sold in the past week, and only one house completed, disproves that statement.

It is truly an education to see this home. To the man who is determined to own his home our terms offer independence, his necessary expense, rent, can be turned into a profit and made to pay for the home. We propose to sell it to you for $1,250 cash and $48.50 monthly, including all interest, and out of this you get an average saving of $32.45.

VETERAN INMATES DEMAND RELEASE

Court Proceedings Opened by Four Old Soldiers.

ILLEGAL DETENTION CHARGED

Patients in St. Elizabeth's Hospital for the Insane Institute Habeas Corpus Litigation in District Court, Claiming Unlawful Deprivation of Liberty and Asking Inquiries.

On the ground that they are being unlawfully deprived of their liberty and that they were committed without proper investigation into their mental condition, four inmates of the Government Hospital for the Insane filed habeas corpus proceedings in the District Supreme Court yesterday, directed to William A. White, superintendent of the hospital. They demand an inquiry by jury into their sanity. The four men are represented by Attorney Richard P. Evans.

Carl O. Samuelson declares he has been an inmate for eight years, and says he went to the asylum in the first instance of his own accord. He was injured in target practice on board the United States ship Monocacy, near Shanghai, China, he says, and was under medical treatment for nine months. From a petty officer he got the impression that the government institution was purely a hospital, and came to Washington for treatment. He was dismissed, he declares, as a sane man, and later fell sick in New York. He was then sent back to St. Elizabeth's by order of the surgeon general of the navy. He says he was confined in a small inclosure, known as the "bull pen," and when he asked to be released from his close confinement was told by a doctor that "this is a lunatic asylum. You are a lunatic, and not trustworthy."

The bill of complaint goes on to recite that Supt. White in a letter to the complainant's attorney, Mr. Evans, dated November 23, 1905, described Samuelson's case with the words: "At present symptoms are in abeyance, but he has developed consumption." The former sailor declares the symptoms have always been "in abeyance," and says his "consumption" might better be treated outside of the hospital for the insane by physicians of his own choosing.

Alexander Warner, who says he has been an inmate for six years, filed his petition through his next friend, Emma S. Britton, because, he declares, he "is not permitted by the respondent to consult counsel or execute his petition in person." He says he served in the civil war in Company F, Twenty-sixth Massachusetts Volunteers.

Edward Flynn, another of the petitioners, says he served in the war of the rebellion in Company G, Sixty-ninth New York Volunteers.

Louis B. Olson declares he served in the United States infantry, and that after contracting fever at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., he was sent here to the government hospital.

BABIES SUFFER MOST.

Health Report Shows Fatal Effects of Hot Weather.

Fifteen deaths among babies under two years of age was the result of the extreme hot weather for the week ending August 7, as shown in the report of vital statistics issued by the health department yesterday. During the present summer, from June 20 to August 7, 126 infants have died from bowel disease due to the hot weather.

There was a decline in the number of deaths for the past week, the number being ninety-three, or thirty-four less than the week previous. Among the contagious diseases, typhoid fever showed an increase of eight cases, twenty-eight new cases being reported, with eighteen discharged, five by death, and 148 cases under treatment.

Diphtheria shows an increase of three cases. Scarlet fever was reduced ten cases during the period, with eight new cases, and eighteen discharged, all recoveries. The minor contagious diseases, such as chickenpox, measles, and whooping-cough, made a favorable showing.

An increase occurred in the number of tuberculous cases reported from 86 to 88. Births reported were 116, of which number 109 were white and 40 negroes.

Ice Machine Is Working.

The new machine for the manufacture of ice installed in the Post-office Department at the beginning of the summer, which has been out of order the greater portion of the time, has been overhauled and a new motor installed. The original cost of the machine was about $2,500, but owing to the number of repairs the cost is now much greater.

ANOTHER IMPERSONATOR.

Donald C. Thompson Said to Represent Lieut. McFarland.

The War Department yesterday issued a statement concerning Donald C. Thompson, who is called an impostor because he represents himself to be a lieutenant of the army, and sometimes impersonates First Lieut. Earl McFarland, of the Coast Artillery Corps.

The department has a record of Thompson having cashed worthless checks in Philadelphia, New York, and St. Louis. The most he ever got at one time, as far as the War Department knows, was $6 from Mermord, Jacard & King in St. Louis. He bought some jewelry and gave a check for $100, getting $55 in change.

On July 30 in New York the assistant treasurer of the O'Neill-Adams Company reported Thompson had presented a check for $100 on the National New Haven Bank, on which he was advanced $50.

LOST JEWELS ARE FOUND.

Baltimore Carpenter Picked Them Up and Inserted Advertisement.

The jewelry valued at $1,500, recently lost by Mrs. Walter Harvey Weed, of Norwalk, Conn., was found near the Union Station, Baltimore, last Monday night by Charles Dosh, a carpenter, of 1149 North Mount street.

Mrs. Weed first missed the jewelry on returning to the Belvedere Hotel from a short walk up Charles street, after arriving in Baltimore last Monday from Dorchester County. She notified the Baltimore police of her loss, and a search was inaugurated.

Meanwhile Mr. Dosh, upon returning from work, had picked up a package near the Union Station, placed it in his pocket, and waited until he had finished his evening meal before examining his find. On discovering what the box contained he took steps to discover the owner, and after several days of searching the "Lost and Found" columns without result, decided to do a little advertising. When Mr. Dosh looked for his advertisement he discovered it beneath it, offering a reward of $100 for the return of the jewels. He reported his find to the Central Station, and a telegram was sent to Mrs. Weed at Norwalk.

Mr. Dosh will be the custodian of the jewels until the return of Mrs. Weed to Baltimore.

MA Y APPLY TUBERCULIN TEST

Stricter Method of Dairy Regulation Considered.

Herds of All Dairymen Selling Milk in Washington May Be Made Subject to Inspection.

There is under consideration by the Commissioners a regulation for a pure milk supply, which, if adopted, will put in force the application of the tuberculin test in milk cows.

This test will apply to all dairy herds from which the District milk supply is drawn.

Such action was recommended by the commission, which set in investigation two years ago, seeking to devise the best plans to safeguard consumers from the dangers of tuberculosis-infected milk, which scientists have agreed can be transmitted from the animal to the human being through the infected milk.

Owners of dairy herds in outside jurisdictions are required to submit their animals and dairies to inspection of the District health officers before a permit will be issued. Dairymen in Virginia or Maryland, who refuse to permit the test to be applied to their herds, the Commissioners will refuse them permits to sell milk in Washington.

If, when the test is applied to herds, they are found to be infected with tuberculosis, the animals will be ordered killed and their carcasses burned. The Commissioners will pay for the slaughtered animals from a fund of the Department of Agriculture. George B. McCabe, solicitor for the Department of Agriculture, has given an opinion following a conference of experts of the department with Commissioner Macfarland and Dr. Woodward, that funds may be applied to pay for all tuberculosis-infected cattle killed. As a result of a conference between Dr. A. D. Melvin, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture, and Dr. W. C. Woodward, a regulation covering the tuberculin tests has been drawn, and has met with the approval of Solicitor McCabe. After it has been passed upon by the corporation counsel, it will be presented to the Commissioners for approval.

SATISFIED WITH HIS REPORT

Dr. White Settles the Question of Escape of Patients.

Secretary of the Interior Convinced Conduct of St. Elizabeth's Is All It Should Be.

The report of Dr. William A. White, superintendent of the Government Hospital for the Insane, on the escape of insane patients from the institution has been submitted to the Secretary of the Interior, by whom it is regarded as satisfactory. Unless further complaints are received the department will drop the matter.

Dr. White in his report states that no complaints of any kind have been received in his office, and inquiry developed the fact that none was received at the department regarding parole or the liberties granted patients. The report of the chief of police in the matter of escaped patients goes back in its citation of cases many years beyond the time that Dr. White has been connected with the hospital, and, therefore, beyond the time about which the superintendent can speak authoritatively.

The only instance cited in which a paroled patient committed a serious act of violence which has occurred during the present administration is the O'Brien case.

As regards actual escapes from the hospital during the past year, Dr. White states that a considerable portion were non-residents of the District, and practically all of them, who were not returned immediately, left the District and have not returned thereto. The conclusion is that this class of escapes offers no menace to the citizens of the District. In conclusion, Dr. White says the popular belief that an insane person is necessarily dangerous is simply not so.

Children at Camp Good Will.

The seventh set of boys and girls to enjoy an outing at Camp Good Will left Washington yesterday afternoon, including principally children of the southwest section of the city. On Tuesday an equal number of boys and girls returned to the city to make room for the new set. Before the departure of the last set an entertainment was held, in which all the children participated. And when the good time was over the Camp Good Will song of "Good-by" was sung.

CHEVY CHASE

The beauties of this splendid suburb are so well known and appreciated by the people who live there that it has been given the name of

The Suburb Beautiful.

No other subdivision around Washington compares with it, and no one of its sections more deserves the name than the new Section IV.

This beautiful property lies between the grounds of two of the most noted country clubs of America,

Section IV

The Chevy Chase Club and The Columbia Golf Club.

This location alone assures for it a place in the social life of the Nation's Capital. Considering this, the prices are extremely low, ranging from 15c to 35c per foot.

ONE OF THE WANT AD BRANCHES OF THE WASHINGTON HERALD

Charles C. Hornung,

7th and M Streets N. W.

A busy place is Hornung's Drug Store, because it is a good pharmacy. A spacious store, modern in design and complete in its appointments, it enjoys an excellent patronage. A capable corps of assistants aid Mr. Hornung in attending to the needs and desires of customers. A very complete line of toilet articles (and everything else to be found in a first class drug store) are carried in stock. Because of its good work and excellent reputation this pharmacy does a large prescription business. On warm evenings the soda fountain appears to be one of the busiest spots in that neighborhood.

For those who know it is only necessary to say Deutsche Apothke.

Want Ads for The Washington Herald left at this Branch Office are accepted at the regular rate of 1 cent a word for each insertion, and are 'phoned direct to the main office. The Washington Herald reaches about twice as many readers as its only morning competitor, yet because of the fact that this is a morning newspaper, it is read thoroughly, and gives readers time to "get down" to the small ads with a consequent large amount of results. You make no mistake when you advertise in The Washington Herald.
